

Houston—Wonder City Down

Houston ship channel

Capital of the U. S. petro-chemical and petroleum industries, Houston, Texas, has a reputation for industrial might. But this largest city in the South (now eighth-largest in the nation) is also a major U. S. tourist center.

Last year KLM Royal Dutch Airlines inaugurated direct air service between Houston and Europe, making Houston the first city in the South and Southwest to possess such a link. But Houston is no newcomer to the fields of international trade and commerce. For many years, the city has been one of America's busiest deep-sea ports.

Houston's astonishing growth (from a population of 63,000 in 1900 to 1,195,000) has, in fact, been closely tied to the growth of her port. Port Houston, located 50 miles inland from the Gulf of Mexico, was opened to deep sea commerce shortly after the turn of the century.

It is estimated that no other city in the world has on its doorstep such a wealth of natural resources as that with which Houston is blessed. The super abundance of mineral wealth, the geogra-location, and rich agricultural hinterland each contribute to Houston's destiny.

Oil derricks stand out against the skyscrapers. A rich oil strike is even paying off in the city dump. Location places Houston in the semi-tropical class with balmy breezes right off the Gulf of Mexico. The city lies in the center of the Coastal Prairie, an area of generally flat topography and fertile soil. With less than 5 per cent of the land area of Texas, this region in 1954 produced 90 per cent of the state's rice and nearly 28 per cent of the nation's total tonnage for that crop.

Houston has 100 parks and municipal golf courses, hundreds of swimming pools, parks and zoos, and eight regulation baseball fields. The Port of Houston is third-ranked deep-sea port in the U. S. in total tonnage moved.

State Legislature Concerned Over Michigan's Increasing Water Shortage

PARADOX: Michigan is bordered on three sides by water; has more than 11,000 inland lakes. It boasts myriad streams and rivers stretching in every direction across the land.

But, Michigan has a water shortage. It is a problem of mal-distribution: enough water is not always in the right place. Enormous use of water for farm irrigation for industry, for sewage disposal systems of mushrooming cities and for recreation emphasize the shortage.

The legislature is concerned. The problem has been growing more acute for five years. It is approaching the critical stage as industry and cities expand into new areas.

Rural areas, which once made Michigan an agricultural state, are shrinking under pressure of progress in other fields. Now, only 10 per cent of the population is engaged in agriculture.

Farmers are turning to irrigation to make the fields do more work; to produce food for Michigan's 7,000,000 people and other markets.

Experts recommend that artificial ponds be created to collect water during the winter and spring for use during the hot, dry summer.

George S. McIntyre, state director of agriculture, contends ponds are impractical because of the large investments, land and equipment.

As the study goes on, the problem becomes more serious.

Industry needs more water in its processes.

A new copper mining technique to coax low grade ore out of the ground in marketable quantities uses tremendous amounts of water—1,000,000 gallons for each ton of ore mined.

The process, which has been tested and proven in the Upper Peninsula, promises to bring an other economic boon to the state. But the supply of water must be guaranteed.

The Bear Creek Mining Co., planning an installation in the Upper Peninsula is "waiting for" other things, the certainty that it will have sufficient water over a long period of time.

Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) said the company, assured by geologists that the copper field exists under Lake Superior, is not interested even in test borings until making sure of water.

New cities spreading out from the metropolitan centers are preparing sewage disposal systems of the most modern design. They need water to make them operate efficiently.

Southeastern Michigan, a honey-comb of small towns grown into big cities, critically needs water for their new homes and factories.

As the shortage grows daily, the state still argues about a solution. The issue: whether to set up a priority system for water use or stick with the present system which guarantees the first owner the right to use it any way he sees fit without damage to others.

The solution becomes important when the use of water by an industry or city lowers the stream level and the shoreline property owner declares it is diminishing his rights.

This, too, affects the resort and recreation industry, which has made Michigan a vacation spot for the nation during the summer months.

Lower levels on inland lakes and streams would give the tourist industry a new headache.

Already, there is competition on the water between fishermen and swimmers, boaters and water skiers.

This situation will become more severe with more people and longer vacation periods.

Senator Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) is chairman of a special house water rights study committee which plans to develop a legislative proposal for the 1959 session.

What it will be remains the problem whether to protect existing rights of ownership or place a priority system on the way water is used.

AN IMPORTANT ISSUE COMES before voters Nov. 4 when they select state and local officials for coming terms.

It involves a proposal to call a state constitutional convention. If approved, machinery would be set in motion to redo the present state constitution which was last designed in 1908.

Republicans have supported the proposal in their state convention. Democrats oppose it only because they feel the state and local officials would be elected by a "majority" in the convention which would decide terms of the new constitution.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

"Consumers Marketing Information Cooperating with County Extension Service"

"Good things in little packages come . . ." This old adage can be applied to eggs this time of year. Right now, the small or pullet size egg supply is larger than at any other season, for the young spring chickens have just started to lay. If there is 15 to 20 cents difference in the price between small and large eggs, then small eggs are the least expensive.

Small eggs have other advantages, too. They suit small serving needs, such as for children, invalids, or adults who like small servings and for variety. Small poached or fried eggs on a breakfast plate are attractive. Little hard-cooked or stuffed eggs for salads or cold plates have special appeal.

Another piece of good news! Spring pigs are coming to market and the price of pork is dropping. Cooler weather is on the way and can't you smell that tantalizing good odor of roast pork cooking? Applesauce from the new Michigan crop of apples would be awfully good with your roast.

Fryers or broilers continue to be plentiful and inexpensive. The price will vary in local stores from 31 to 39¢ a pound. Just a reminder, this may be a good time to purchase a quantity for freezing. Stewing hens are also newsworthy at this time. Poultry beginning to lay crowd the "old timers" out of the hen houses and we're seeing these birds featured in many stores.

Now is the time to continue to have your "fill" of fresh home-grown fruits and vegetables. Sweet corn is from 29 to 35¢ a dozen. Home grown tomatoes by the bushel for canning are running about 4½¢ cents per pound or approximately $2.00 to $2.25 per bushel.

Peaches—Hale Haven and Fair Haven are about $2.49 per bushel for canning. Squash—Acorn, Buttercup or Summer—all average about 10¢ cents a pound.

Labor Day is usually about the last call for watermelon but our northern markets still have a supply. Have you made watermelon pickles?

It's Trite Because it's True . . .

We can accurately measure the extent of the tax burden by dollar volume alone. We can see it most clearly when related to our earnings.

In 1929, for instance, total federal, state and local taxes came to 10.6 per cent of the gross national product — which is the sum total value of all the goods and services we produce. In 1943, with a war on, it was 26.5 per cent. Last year it was 28.1 per cent and the trend, undoubtedly, is still upward.

Wars, hot and cold, have played an important part in this depressing onward march of the tax collector. But wars can't be given the sole blame by a long shot. We have adopted the welfare state philosophy to a much greater extent than most of us apparently realize. Wittingly or otherwise, we expect the government to do all manner of things for us that previous generations did for themselves. The solution to just about every problem that comes along is "let the government pass a law, appropriate the money, and solve it."

The enormous cost of welfareism, bad as that is, isn't the worst factor. The most destructive effect is on the character of people. Independence is lost, freedom is lost, self-reliance and self-respect are lost.

To say that this potentially deadly disease won't be cured until the people rise up and demand a change of their government is to say something that has become trite from repetition. And the reason it is trite is because it is absolutely true.

"Cover-To-Cover Readers" . . .

From the Belmont, Ohio, Chronicle:
"A strong voice of approval for advertising in weekly newspapers spoke out recently at a Milwaukee Press Association meeting."

"According to a front page article in The Publishers Auxiliary, Alan R. McGinnis, chairman of the board of a Milwaukee advertising agency, stated: '... It is my opinion, although not officially documented, that subscribers of weekly newspapers will come closer to being cover-to-cover readers than any other print medium available.'"

"I don't subscribe to the thought that the way to get maximum return on the client dollar is necessarily that of buying as much circulation as possible.

"Along with the obvious advantage of reasonable column rates, is the fact that a full-page ad in a weekly will hit the reader's eye like a rocket burst and he will remember that advertiser's name and product because it is not buried in forty or fifty pages of newspapers."

The new pumps for the waterworks system have arrived and are being installed. City Manager Miller says that it is expected that the pumps will be ready for operation by September 25th. At that time the entire system will be flushed, cleaned and chlorinated. After that the water will be pure and without contamination and safe for all purposes. This improvement will put Grayling ahead a long way and is what has long been needed. Meters have already been installed and will be put into operation in October, according to present plans.

A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush!

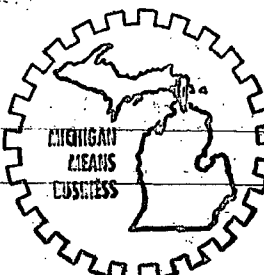

An understatement if you've ever heard one! Comparing the industry which is located in your town with industry located somewhere else which your town might like to get, the bird in hand is worth a hundred in the bush, and more.

It's a hundred to one that the best opportunity your town has for more industrial payroll lies in expansion of its present industry.

The industrial payroll of your town is a priceless possession. Protect it. Other towns would like to get it and some may even now be trying. Don't take the industry in your town for granted. Show your pride in it. Help it expand.

There's no better payroll than the homegrown variety and it is, by all odds, the easiest to grow. Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Go 'Back To School' To Really Learn

September brings more than a little chill in the air... It means the return to school and, for most teenagers, more dates with the books than with the "steady."

The teenager with ambitions and plans who has the desire to make a place for himself or herself in the adult world that looms ever closer, will put schoolwork first and social life in the second position. And, the wise parent will exercise whatever parental authority is necessary to see that this is done.

The school term need not be an exile in "Siberia." There is fun as well as work to be found in school activities and associations. It would be difficult today to find a school that does not offer its students the opportunity to participate in sports, debating groups, and various other activities. Most students take part in these activities or belong to a school group or association of one type or another.

Monday in Big Rapids, meeting his sister, Mrs. Robert Bensinger who registered her daughter Peggy at Ferris Institute that day.

Mrs. A. C. Miller of Detroit was a guest of Mrs. A. E. Michelson at Lake Margrethe for several days last week. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Miller left Monday for Detroit, to spend the winter.

Dinner guests at the Ross Wolf home last Friday were the Rev. and Mrs. Matti Aho of Ipswich, N. H., enroute home from the Upper Peninsula.

Mrs. Marian Hanson, daughter Karen and Margaret Gugin left Sunday for Quebec, Canada. They will visit among other spots the shrine at Ste. Anne de Beaupre and return by the way of Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Madsen and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dingman spent last week at Hubert and Munising. The party brought back 19 lake trout.

Turnage Sale, St. Francis Guild, next to Olson's Shoe Store, this Friday and Saturday.

Donald Peterson, son of Hans Peterson of Grayling, has been promoted from Area Fisheries Biologist at Rosecommon to District Fisheries Supervisor of District 5 with headquarters at Gaylord. The promotion took effect Sept. 1st.

Weekend guests of Hans Peterson were Mr. and Mrs. Irving Peters of Atkins, Ark., who stopped on their way through to Battle Creek. Mr. Peterson and Mr. Peters were in the navy together and in the same hospital for months. They had not seen each other in 43 years. Son Kenneth Peterson of Flint was also home for the weekend.

Miss Connie Millikin and friend John Brown of Detroit spent the weekend visiting her parents, the Leroy Millikins. Both are students at Northeastern School of Commerce in Bay City.

Miss Mary Ann Cinciala is attending Northeastern School of Commerce at Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Elsey of Toledo, Ohio, were weekend guests of Mrs. Paul Bethard at McIntyre's Landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bear and grandson, Charles Krull, returned home last Friday. Mr. Bear had been on a hunting trip near Anchorage, Alaska, where he other. It is an unusual student who cannot find some school activity that appeals to him.

With it all, however, the forward-looking teenager should remember that he goes to school to get an education. The school term is a stepping stone along the pathway of life and each student makes his own path as the term moves along. The student who is interested only in "getting by" will one day find that his school efforts do not look so appealing in the plain black and white report that will be a part of his credentials when he starts job hunting.

In school work, as in life, one always gets return for the efforts put forth. Getting the most out of school requires the proper mixture of study activity and social activity. Both have a job to do in preparing for the future... and every teenager, whether willing to admit it or not, knows whether he or she is just trying to "get by" or is seriously putting forth an effort.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORD, N.Y.

Named a Brigadier General in the United States Army Reserve was John W. Libke of Detroit, a member of the Detroit Board of Assessors. Brig. Gen. Libke is assistant division commander of the 70th Infantry Division.

Friday evening Mrs. Don Legg drove Mrs. Lloyd Berry to Kawkawin, where they picked up Mrs. Hazen Hatfield, who accompanied them to Pontiac to stay overnight with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Berry, Jr. Saturday morning Mr. Berry drove the ladies to Detroit, where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Berry's nephew, John Kettelhut, to Miss Gloria Kroll, at the church of the Nativity of Our Lord, at 9 o'clock in the morning. A reception was given in the evening at Roma Hall in East Detroit, after which all returned to Roseville to stay overnight with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ann Kettelhut. Sunday they returned to their respective homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gibbons of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibbons of Detroit were Friday night guests of Mrs. Lulu Kessler. They were here to attend their brother Tom's wedding the following day.

Rummage Sale, St. Francis Guild, next to Olson's Shoe Store, this Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson and daughter Judy left Saturday night for Albion, to enroll Judy in college there on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Larson continued on to Grand Haven and Grand Rapids, to visit friends and relatives, before coming home the middle of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Klein and son Kent of Mt. Pleasant visited their parents, the Robert Kleins, Saturday afternoon.

WORLD OUTDOORS
BY MIKE BENNETT

DON'T stow away your fishing gear just because cool weather and the hunting season has arrived. There's plenty of angling to be had in most parts of the country.

Many sportsmen go strictly by the seasons. If hunting season is open, they reason—that a fellow won't have much luck fishing. This isn't necessarily so, as plenty of fishermen will attest. Some just love the days when the lake freezes over heavy enough for fishing through the ice. And others say they have found that there are plenty of fish to be caught in the brisk weather of Fall.

In the South, many veteran bass fishermen consider the month of September one of the best of the year... the month when the lazy, big lunkers can be more easily tempted to rise to a top water popper bait. The cooler temperature of the water, too, seems to put some extra pep and vigor into bluegill and sunfish.

Although some states restrict angling for certain species of fish to designated seasons, other states have "open" season the year round. Check your local and State laws if you are not familiar with them before you undertake year-round fishing. But, don't think that just because it's chilly enough for you to wear a parka, it's too cold for the fish to bite.

Fishing is fun, the year round. You can, of course, get argument as to which season of the year is the best, some anglers swear by Spring; many like the lacy days of Summer, when it feels best to dip the toes into the water; Fall is preferred by many; and to a small and hardy group, there's nothing like Winter fishing.

The season doesn't really matter. Fishing is fun, and it's relaxing. The only way to go is when ever you get the time.

Cats Come Home

but ... scattered dollars don't

You might broadcast a sack of cats ... and find them all back home in a couple of days ... plus some extras. But DOLLARS don't have much in the way of a homing instinct.

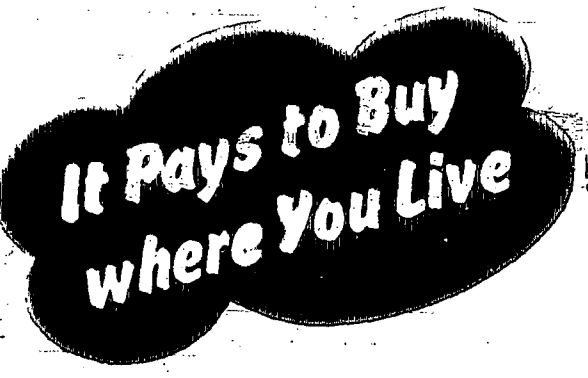

Take DOLLARS and sew them in the City ... or send them off to some mail-order concern ... or hand them to some hit-and-run salesman, and they are LONG-GONE DOLLARS.

IF YOU DON'T THINK SO ... try to get some of these left-town dollars back home to help fill our Red Cross quota ... or to buy new suits for the school band, or a new fire engine, or to hire a preacher, or some more school teachers for your kids, or to pave more streets.

BUYING WHERE YOU LIVE supports more people — and more prosperous people — in the neighborhood. People who can save you money by helping you carry the load of time and expense that goes with any community that is fit to live in.

Home Extension News

The opening meeting of the fall session for the Jolly Gals home extension group was held at the home of Mrs. Richard Merrill Wednesday evening of last week. Mrs. Earl Broadbent was a guest.

The creed was read aloud, then the secretary-treasurer's report was read and approved. Roll call was taken and responses given with personal preferences as to the monthly program. The meeting date of the second Monday of each month was chosen. Four new membership applications were considered and accepted.

The electrical and lighting lesson for group leaders on September 25 and 26 was announced, and volunteer workers and cookie donors were requested.

Plans were discussed for the rally day to be held at Bellaire October 2nd, checking members who could attend and also help prepare name cards.

The group was extended an invitation to attend the arts and crafts display to be held at the Grayling High school gymnasium October 25, and also to contribute to the display.

Informative literature on breads was distributed, and the meeting adjourned to enjoy a delicious lunch served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held October 13th.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved son, brother and uncle, William Henry Bielski, who passed away two years ago, September 17. We miss you dear, every hour, especially on this day. Your loving smile, your tender face, no one can fill your vacant place. Friends may think the wound is healed but they little know the sorrow that lies within our hearts concealed.

Your loving Mother and Dad,
Sister, Brother and family who could not qualify for benefits under the old law because the son or daughter left a widow, widower, or child.

3 Adopted children whose adoptive parents began receiving retirement benefits less than 3 years after the adoption. (In many cases this provision will also make possible payments to the mother of the adopted child.)

4 A person receiving benefits who marries another person also receiving benefits can continue to receive monthly checks, or can become eligible as a dependent of the new husband or wife without waiting 3 years.

5 People in situations similar to those mentioned above may have applied for benefits in the past and been notified that they did not qualify for payments. These people should get in touch with their social security district offices promptly about filing new applications, Mr. Wiles noted.

Disabled workers whose social security disability benefits were reduced or were not payable because they received workmen's compensation or other Federal disability payments will begin to receive the full amount of their social security disability payments. (These people DO NOT have to file applications. Their social security checks will be started automatically with checks mailed out early in September.)

Beginning January 1, 1959, the social security tax rate for employees and employers will be 2 1/2 percent each. The rate for self-employed people will be 3 3/4 percent. These rates are scheduled to increase every 3 years until they reach 4 1/2 percent for employees and employers and 6 3/4 percent for self-employed people in 1969.

Starting with 1959, the first $4800 of earnings in a year will be taxed for social security and will count toward social security benefits.

The Traverse City social security district office is at 235 Grand View Parkway. It is open from Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Mr. Wiles emphasized that it is not necessary for people already receiving monthly payments to apply for the automatic increase. It will be added to the January checks, which will be delivered early in February.

"Inquiries about the automatic increase will slow down our effort to start payments promptly to the people who are getting payments for the first time."
